"Dollars Won't Ease Heart-ache, But They Will Help," Says Louise Dresser

Louise Dresser, stage star, resident of Glendale, today through The Glendale Evening News makes a personal appeal for the benefit entertainment to be given November 6 to aid the relief fund being raised for the families of Clarence Edwards and Joseph W. McGahan, who lost their lives fighting fire a week ago Saturday.

"To the Men and Women of Glendale—For the first time since the heartbreaking days of 1914-18 I am taking active interest in one of the most worthy benefits I have ever known of."

"A great many of you may know that I have not lived in Glendale a great while, and although forest and mountain fires have been talked of and read about, never have I seen one or realized the tremendous danger until I saw the fire of October 13."

"Two men, real red-blooded men, gave their lives to these flames, striving in their own brave way to shield each and every one of us, our lives and our homes, from danger. Heroes. I'll say, if there ever was one."

"Their families need help, and we are going to give it to them, aren't we?"

One Great Cause
"I am going to do my best to bring some of the people you have seen and enjoyed to Glendale on the night of November 6. The price of the tickets to the benefit may seem high, but it isn't the actor or actress you may see, it isn't the entertainment you may receive, it is the One Great Cause I want you to keep in mind when you buy that ticket."

"Actor, actress, entertainment, all go for nothing when we realize that a full house at $5 a ticket will assure one little mother of a comfortable home; her boy was trying to give her; another little woman and her baby will know that Glendale is with her."

Wildcat Is Killed
by Motorcar on San Fernando Rd.

The little black bear outside the shop of S. J. Mills, the furrier, 133 South Brand boulevard, looked up in surprise this morning as Robert Younker of Launkershim parked his car with an eighty-five-pound wildcat dangling from the starboard beam.

"I want it stuffed," Younker told the proprietor. "I ran over it yesterday afternoon on the San Fernando road, about four miles beyond Burbank, in the direction of Launkershim."

When asked if it jarred his car, Younker replied: "Oh, yes, it jarred the car some—but the cat more."

KEY WEST, Fla., Oct. 22.—"Lowering lifeboats," said a report received here today from the United Fruit steamer San Gil. The boat, bound from Havana to Colon, is breaking to pieces on a reef off Providence island, according to messages received here.

The steamers San Blas and Pastores are hurrying to the scene of the disaster.

Another message was picked up by the independent wireless company of East Hampton, N. Y. It said:

"Help. Quick."

The wireless broke off abruptly and attempts to get the San Gil to reply were without success.

Methodists Follow Pinchot in Demand That Dry Law Be Enforced

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
For International News Service
WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—On the heels of the departing governors who attended the prohibition conference at the White House Saturday came renewed pressure today to "compel" President Coolidge to assume personal command of dry law enforcement.

Governor Gifford Pinchot, of Pennsylvania, first suggested that Mr. Coolidge accept personal responsibility for enforcement of the Volstead law, and he reiterated it last night in a parting fling at the "orgy of lawlessness" which the federal government, he said, seems powerless or unwilling to check.

New Angle on Haynes
Today the board of temperance, prohibition and public morals of the Methodist Episcopal church took up Governor Pinchot's battle cry and accompanied it with a demand Secretary of the Treasury Andrew W. Mellon, Commissioner of Internal Revenue David Blair, and Assistant Prohibition Commissioner James Jones be relieved of connection with prohibition enforcement. The board said in a formal statement:

"Commissioner Haynes is an honest man and a man of ability. He is a sincere prohibitionist, and if permitted could do the country a service. He is not being permitted."

The board made four recommendations to President Coolidge as how he could solve the prohibition problem:

Offer Suggestions
"The thing has been checked up to President Coolidge. He is an honest man. He wants to see the law enforced. The time has come for him to see that it is enforced, and see to it personally. There are several things he could do:

"One—He could favor the creation of the prohibition unit as a separate bureau, with a real prohibitionist having real power as the head of it, one who can be held responsible for results."

"Two—Or he could replace the present commissioner of internal revenue (Blair) with a fighting prohibitionist, letting the new commissioner and Haynes reconstruct the unit, cleansing it of politics and worse—if worse should be discovered."

"Three—He could come out flat-footed in support of the prohibition law, not 'just because it is the law,' but because prohibition is an American institution, henceforth and forever, the policy of a prohibition country over which floats a prohibition flag, a policy which has indicated itself despite the assaults of semi-reasonable forces."

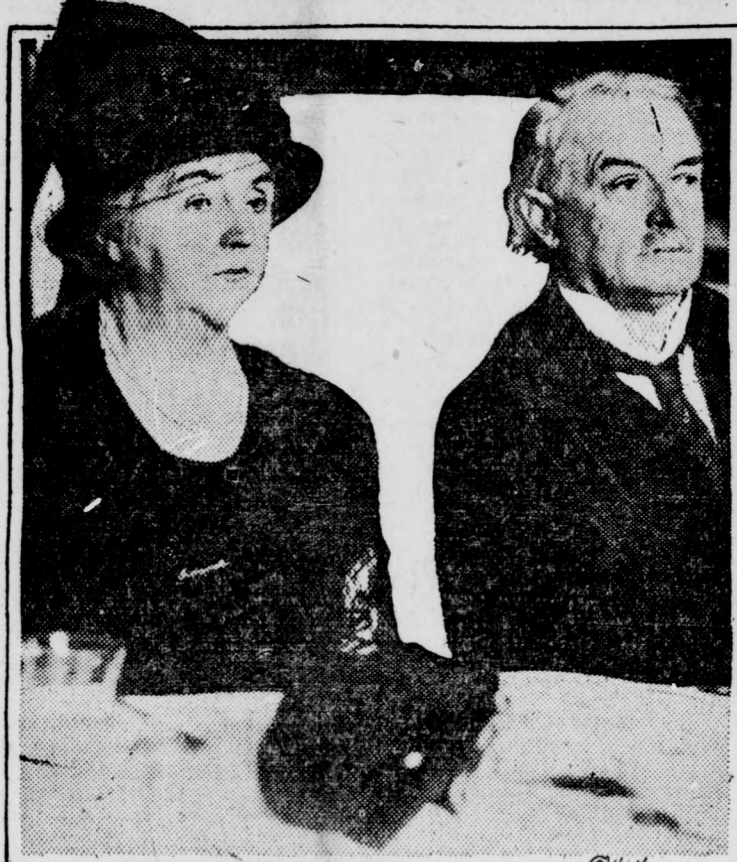

"Four—He could pass the word down the line to the American people from the highest to the lowest that the government is determined to enforce this law, that it will be enforced on Broadway and in the distant hollows of remote mountains."

D'Atremont-La Chance Gang Sought by S. P. for Siskiyou Job

ASHLAND, Ore., Oct. 22.—The Siskiyou train bandit hunt became today a definite search for the three D'Atremont brothers of Eugene, and Bernard Lachance, whom Southern Pacific officials insist are the men who dynamited the train and killed four members of the crew.

Descriptions of Roy, Ray and Hugh D'Atremont and Lachance have been broadcasted and authorities are hopeful the quartet will be picked up within a short time.

An express money order found in the discarded overalls picked up near the crime was said to be the clew which pointed to the D'Atremont brothers. The slip was found by Professor Heinrich, criminologist of the University of California. He advised Dan O'Connell, chief special agent of the Southern Pacific last Thursday, who dispatched special agents by automobile from here to Medford to catch the north bound Shasta train.

The owner of the money order receipt was identified and it was learned that he and three other men were employees of a lumber company near Silverton, Ore., up until late August.

LLOYD GEORGE NEAR DEATH AT INDIANAPOLIS
INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 22.—David Lloyd George came near death during his parade of welcome here today, when a fire truck answering a downtown alarm, broke through the line directly in back of the former premier's car. Jackson Boosts Home Town During Convention of Exchange Clubs

"The officials of the post-office department in Washington have given the Glendale postoffice everything we have been fighting for, and it took them only one day to pass favorably on every request that I presented to them," declared Postmaster D. Ripley Jackson, on his return from the east last night.

"This includes the approval of a site for the new postoffice, the permanent employment of eight clerks and eighteen carriers, and a parcel post receiving room to handle the Christmas rush."

"John H. Bartlett, first assistant postmaster-general, devoted his personal attention to rushing the Glendale postoffice business through the various departments, giving me the benefit of the knowledge of local postal conditions he acquired during his recent visit of inspection here."

"Mr. Bartlett passed the request for the new postoffice to the budget committee within fifteen minutes after I had broached the matter to him on my visit to Washington."

Captain Jackson went east to attend the annual convention of Exchange Clubs, held at Springfield, Mass., and was accompanied by Mrs. Jackson and their daughter, Miss Grace Anna Jackson. The full report of the convention will be presented to the Glendale Exchange club at its Wednesday meeting.

Aged Millionaire's Side of Famous Case Closes; Wife Opens Fire

By JACK CARBERRY
For International News Service
NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—William Earl Dodge Stokes, 73-year-old millionaire, today closed his suit for divorce from Helen Elwood Stokes, his pretty young wife, after using twenty-one witnesses in an effort to prove she had been friendly with Edgar T. Wallace. Most of the witnesses were negro servants who testified they had seen Mrs. Stokes at Wallace's alleged "love flat" on Fifth avenue.

Wallace, the co-respondent, was in the courtroom as Stokes closed his case, prepared to take the stand to refute the charges against himself and Mrs. Stokes.

Witness for Wife
W. E. D. Stokes was called as a witness for his wife today when she began her defense against his suit for divorce. The aged millionaire proved a hostile witness.

Samuel Untermeyer, counsel for Mrs. Stokes, tried to question Stokes about the testimony of his negro witnesses but Justice Mahoney would not permit.

Admits Discrepancy
Stokes admitted that his wife was not in New York during the summer and fall of 1914 when some witnesses had testified that they saw her at Wallace's apartment.

Before Stokes testified the defense presented a deposition from Dr. L. E. Benson, a former roommate of Wallace's that he had never seen Mrs. Stokes at their apartment. Horace Knowles, former diplomatic agent, had testified he saw Mrs. Stokes at the apartment when he went there to call on Benson. The deposition said Benson was not at the Wallace apartment in May, 1916, the date Knowles said he called on him.

City Clerk A. J. Van Wie calls attention to provisions of the law requiring registration of voters who have changed their residence since previous elections. People who have moved from their precinct since January 1 and did not register for the April election, and those who have moved since April, will have to register in order to vote at the bond election, which probably will occur during December.

PRISONERS FACE
'BUNKO' CHARGE

Local Officers Arrest Two Men as Woman Nemesis Files Complaint

D. Gordon E. Revley, alias L. D. Bradley, and J. B. Mitchell, alias A. L. Atkins, were arrested this morning by Police Chief J. D. Fraser and Lieut. W. J. Royle on suspicion of having perpetrated a "bunko game" on Mrs. Olive A. Stowe, 452 Pioneer drive.

The two prisoners were turned over to Deputy Sheriff J. D. Fox and an investigation of their story will be made which implicates a "principal" with offices in San Francisco, who, it was claimed, is trying to secretly gain control of 51 per cent of Hamilton syndicate oil stock.

Mrs. Mary T. Arfwedson of 434 West Harvard street was the nemesis here of Revley and his companion, whom officers declare have been in jail before the story of the case being as follows:

Wanted Cash, Charge
Bradley and Atkins, as they were known, approached holders of Hamilton shares, which were sold by the H. L. Bentley company of Los Angeles, and told them that for an additional cash consideration they would exchange this security, which lost value when a dry hole was drilled, for full amount Southern California Edison company 7 per cent bonds.

In the Stowe case, $600 cash additional was solicited to be put with her $2400 oil shares, making a total of $3000, and they received for $350 cash. The balance was to have been turned over to Mrs. Stowe.

Police Are Called
Mrs. Arfwedson was approached last Saturday and she invited them back this morning. In the meeting Mrs. Arfwedson, accompanied by W. W. Rainey, sales manager for the Bentley company, and he called in the police for the protection of his unit holders.

At the police station Deputy Sheriff Fox recognized the men as former boarders at Hotel Treager, otherwise known as the county jail, and he expressed belief that they were representatives of ring which is mulcting owners of oil stock which has lost value.

Reich Officials Want New Republic in 'State Federation'

DRESDEN, Oct. 22.—Severe fighting took place at Meissen today between reichswehr and communists.

DUESSELDORF, Oct. 22.—Two German secessionists were wounded in rioting at Wanne today.

HAILE, Germany, Oct. 22.—Social democrats, here for the communist meeting today, urged the entire party to quit the government coalition.

BERLIN, Oct. 22.—Bavaria today suspended the seventh division of the national reichswehr, under Bavarian command, threatening a new crisis with Berlin.

MAYENCE, Oct. 22.—The Rhinish republican movement spread today. Two secessionists were wounded here when shots greeted the entrance of Rhineland troops into Mayence at 4:30 o'clock.

Later the Rhineland troops were withdrawn into the outskirts to avoid bloodshed.

It was reported that the proclamation of Mayence's adherence to the Rhinish republican movement might be postponed until tomorrow or Wednesday.

To Meet in Cologne
The federal and Prussian state governments have issued a joint invitation to the Rhineland parties to meet representatives of the German state in the federal building at Cologne to discuss the proclamation of a Rhineland republic.

The reich officials want the new republic to be a member of the German confederation of states.

It is possible that the movement may grow into the creation of two republics, one with headquarters at Cologne and adhering to Berlin, under the protection of the British; and the second republic an autonomous state supported by France and Belgium.

FRITZ EBERT, JR. CALLS IT 'WAR'

Bavaria's Secession Should Be Harshly Dealt With, President's Son Says

By FRITZ EBERT, JR.
Son of the President of Germany
Written Especially for and Copyrighted, 1923, by International News Service
BERLIN, Oct. 22.—Bavaria's action is tantamount to a declaration of war against the German state, the same Bavarian leaders who have been bragging of the restoration of order and unity in the state, try to disrupt the state because the Berlin government dismissed a mutinous general—Von Lossow.

What would the same Bavarians and their reactionary friends in the German Reich say if not General Von Lossow, but General Mueller, (Reichswehr), commander in red Saxony, had been the offender?

Few remember that Von Kahr himself (head of the Bavarian government) is a product of the movement of General Von Luettwitz, who made him Bavarian premier during the Kapp rising in Berlin in 1920. Now this same Von Kahr leads a mutinous General Von Lossow to compel the Reich's soldiers to break their military oath of allegiance.

Imperial Germany knew only one answer to such mutiny—the firing squad. Unfortunately the Reich is not entirely free from blame for the present Bavarian attitude.

Ephesian Riot Forms Kemp's Sermon Theme

Rev. Philip K. Kemp, rector of St. Mark's church, preached yesterday morning from Acts 19:29,
"When they heard these things,
they were full of wrath and cried out, 'Great is Diana of the Ephesians.'"

Mr. Kemp's discourse dealt with the breaking up of the traffic in idols by the silversmiths through the miracle wrought by St. Paul, who, through Christ's power restored to health the demented girl who was used as a tool by Demetrius and his fellow craftsmen.
The lessons to be drawn from St.
Paul's example were powerfully stressed by Mr. Kemp.

Work on the enlargement of St.
Mark's church is proceeding rapidly, and both the upstairs and the downstairs portions of the church will, it is expected, be completed within the next two weeks, with greater accommodation for preaching services and the Sunday school and other activities of the church.

recent hill fire, and in helping to swell the relief fund for the Mc-Gahan and Mrs. Edwards.

HOW FAT ACTRESS WAS MADE SLIM

Many stage people now depend entirely upon Marmola Prescription Tablets for reducing and controlling fat. One clever actress tells that she reduced steadily and easily by using this new form of the famous Marmola
Prescription, and now, by taking Marmola Prescription Tablets
several times a year, keeps her weight just right without weakening diets, dangerous exercises, or absurd greases and salves. All good druggists sell Marmola Prescription Tablets at one dollar for a case, or if you prefer you can secure them direct from the Marmola Co., 4612 Woodward Ave., Detroit, Mich. If you have not tried them do so. They are harmless and effective.

Picnic Outing

A group of former residents of Fergus Falls, Minn., who have come to Southern California to make their home during the past three years, most of whom have located permanently in Glendale, enjoyed a delightful day and picnic dinner at Brookside park on Sunday.

It was decided to organize a society and the following officers were elected: Mrs. Arthur Anger of Hollywood, president; Mrs.
Emma Colson, of Glendale, vice-president; P. C. Brown, also of Glendale, secretary. The naming of the society will take place at the next meeting which will be held a month from yesterday at the park at Sunland.

Bridge Luncheon

Charming in all its appointments was the bridge-luncheon with which Mrs. G. W. Jorres of 528 West Wilson avenue, and Mrs. Eileen Williams of Downey entertained Saturday at the home of the former a group of friends and putting on several encores of the same number.

While in Washington Captain
Jackson was presented to President Coolidge and was photographed in company with the chief executive.

The old "13," Captain Jackson's lucky number, started to follow him early on the trip and cropped up at frequent intervals.
On the train to Washington
he had seat 13 in Car B, on the run to Philadelphia he had seat 13 in Car D. His room in the Willard hotel in Washington was 904, which adds up to 13, and on from New York was made on October 13, his deck chair check was 13,081, which add up to 13,

and the ship was carrying 13,- 000 gallons of oil when she reached port.

The cold weather, foggy and damp, that they encountered during practically all of their stay in the east, made one more reason why the Jackson family in its entirety is glad to get back to Glendale again, where the sun shines regularly and warmly.

"Jolly Bachelors"

The dance given Saturday night at the L. O. O. F. hall by the "Jolly Bachelors" proved to be a most enjoyable affair and very well attended.

The hall had been transformed into a bower of flowers and greenery. Huge baskets of carnations, sweet peas and roses and beautiful ferns were used artificially in the decorations. The moon-shaped orchestra platform was located in the center of the hall and was surrounded by flowers and ferns and beautiful floor lamps in the rose, mulberry and gold shades.

The music for the dancing was furnished by the ever popular Kelly Shrine six-piece orchestra.
During the evening favors of carnations, in place of caps, and whistles representing birds and animals were distributed to the guests.

Saturday night's affair was planned and arranged by the following committee: Mr. and Mrs.
E. H. Donaldson, J. W. Burgess,
Gordon Murray and Miss Selma Moris.

The Jolly Bachelors intend to give these dances regularly every Saturday night, however, the next dance will not be given until November 3.

their home during their absence and had prepared a delightful dinner in the celebration of their

La Crescentans will be very interested to know that the Wilson & Burton realty brokers and sub-dividers of Glendale, consider there is such a future here they have leased the office of Bruce, Cook & Talmadge on the northeast corner of Honolulu and Los Angeles avenues.

Mr. Bruce states he was offered $12,500 cash for his corner property which he purchased this spring from Collins & Tillinghast at $10,000 and also was offered $15,000 on terms. Neither of these deals appealed to Mr. Bruce, as he realizes his property is increasing in value daily as all property in southern California is doing. Mr. Bruce will manage the local office for the Wilson & Burton firm.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Swain of Sparr Heights entertained a coterie of friends with a charming Halloween costume party on Saturday evening. The hall and large living rooms were decorated with the Halloween motifs.

APATHY REGNING AROUND CAPITAL

Reich Cracking Under Strain While People Outwardly Keep Plodding Along

By S. D. WEYER

For International News Service

BERLIN, Oct. 22.—The foundation of the German reich was cracking today under the strain of the secession, hostility between the states, public distress and labor troubles. Up to early afternoon few serious disorders had been reported excepting in occupied districts. For the most part the people are apathetic and indifferent.

The separatist movement has swept through a part of the Rhineland, beginning Aachen (Aix-la-Chapelle) but apparently has met with opposition in some quarters. First reports that Mayence, Wiesbaden and other large Rhenish cities were supporting the movement was officially denied but Berlin admits that the republic had been accepted by Muenchen, Gladbach and Aachen.

Talk General Strike

There is talk of a general strike. Already nearly all the mines in central Germany are idle with about 200,000 miners on strike.

Bavaria did not demand formal oath of allegiance from the troops, but compelled them to subscribe to a pledge.

GROWTH OF SCIOT ORDER IS RAPID

Remarkable Progress Made
Throughout California
With Pyramids

Organized June 6 of this year, Glendale Pyramid No. 39, Ancient Egyptian Order of Sciots, has had a phenomenal growth, now having a membership of 275.

Every master Mason in good standing in San Fernando valley is eligible to membership in the local pyramid and an active campaign looking to the enrollment of every Mason in the valley has been in progress since the lodge was instituted.

A gorgeous ceremonial was staged September 7, during which about 100 new members were initiated. That was an occasion long to be remembered by the fraternity. Eminent toparches, mobis, armesees, pastopharises, scribes, chancellors and other high officers were here from the big cities to participate.

Prior to the ceremonial several aggressive teams conducted an intensive membership drive, with the result that an army of recruits were initiated.

Born in Bay City

Authorities differ as to the actual date of the inception of the Ancient Egyptian Order of Sciots, which had its birth in San Francisco. One well informed Mason, of which lodge the Sciots is a branch, says it was first known as the Boosters' club. This club, he says, was practically abandoned at the time of the big fire and was not really started in earnest until about twelve years ago.

At first the order flourished in the northern part of the state, but at the present time it is having its greatest growth in Southern California. All the pyramids of the Sciots, with the exception of one at Reno, Nevada, are confined to California, although considerable interest is developing throughout the country.

The order of Sciots was born as a result of Masons leaving the convention hall during ritualistic work and congregating in other parts of the building. A high officer of the lodge, noting a large crowd of Masons assembled, jokingly inquired why they did not organize them a lodge of their own. The idea instantly took root.

Although virtually confined to California, the new order has had a remarkable growth. There are now reported to be forty-two pyramids, with a total membership in excess of 23,000. The Sciots' order is to the master

Ballyhoo Artists In Good Voice! Real Animals and Live Clowns Fill Program

With the Big Tent now up, on North Brand boulevard between Milford and Doran streets, and every detail of the arrangements complete, the Sciots' Circus opens Tuesday night in a riot of merriment and a whirl of entertainment features, reports Toparch H. M. Bennett, chairman of the committee in charge.

Activity is running rife, tickets are selling at a lively rate, and up and down the valley, nothing is being heard but Sciots' Circus, circus, circus!

"This energetic, lively organization is going to give the people of Glendale and vicinity the show of their lives, for the balance of this week," says Mr. Bennett. "A home organization and the profits to stay at home, is our motto."

"We had two purposes in organizing this circus: First, to answer by raising the necessary funds some of the many calls for charity we constantly get, and, second, to finance uniforms for our fine Sciots' band, organized and managed by Brother G. O. Russell."

"The Sciots are going to outfit their wonderful concert band with real uniforms and send their music-makers to the Sciots' state convention at San Diego November 15. All the balance of profits will be used for public charitable purposes. Such a worthy proposition is surely deserving of the support of Glendale's citizens."

"When the old calliope comes wheezing down Brand boulevard, drawn by several beautiful ponies, and the ballyhoo artists begin to shout, Glendale will wake up to the fact that the circus has started and the pink lemonade and peanuts are awaiting customers."

"Real live animals and real clowns will fill up a program of enjoyment for old and young. Grandpappy will forget he is old and rheumatic, will throw away his cane and hop down to the tent to have the time of his life."

"No circus is complete without a wild man, and one of these famous Barnum characters, picked up from the shores of the wild island of Catalina, will be imported at great expense. Fed on raw meat and raised under the special instructions of the Sciots' committee, he is going to be the wildest wild man ever trained for this stunt."

"The Sciots' band will be on the streets tonight and many Sciots will be present to let our citizens know what it is all about."

"Balloons will be given away

Mason what the Shriners is to the thirty-third degree Mason. A Sciots has been defined as a cross between a Shriner and a Rotarian.

PRETTY GIRLS IN QUEEN CONTEST

Choice Will Be Announced
Last Night of Circus;
Free Automobile

One feature of the Sciots' Circus that is certain to bid high for favor is the popularity contest. The Sciots' committee has nominated four beautiful Glendale girls to run in the contest, reports H. M. Bennett, Sciots' toparch, in charge of the circus plans. These girls are: Miss Margaret Longley, Miss Gladys Kattelman, Miss Olive Middleton and Miss Corinne Orff.

Votes will be sold at a nominal charge and deposited in special ballot boxes arranged for the purpose. These ballot boxes will be opened 10 o'clock sharp Saturday night, October 27, the last night of the circus, and counted by a special committee. The winner will then be announced and crowned Queen of the Circus.

Every person attending the Sciots' Circus on North Brand boulevard between Milford and Doran streets, this week, will receive for his admission price a ticket entitling him to a chance on a brand new Gardner touring car that will be given away at the end of the circus.

"This makes an unusually fine opportunity to get rid of that old bus and acquire a nice bright gothere car," says Toparch H. M. Bennett, in charge of the circus.

The firm of Gilhuly & Russell, realtors, 212 South Brand boulevard, is 100 per cent Sciots. S. S. Gilhuly and G. O. Russell, partners in the firm, are both members. O. H. Russell, father of G. O., is also a Sciots. And they have just taken with them C. L. Peck, late of the Frank Meline organization, Los Angeles, a Sciots as well.

"Which," says Mr. Gilhuly, "some record!"

clated with circuses, carnivals and the like will be present in abundance, to invigilate childish and grown-up appetites alike.

American Legion Night
Thursday, October 25, has been set aside at the Sciots' Circus as American Legion night, announces H. M. Bennett, toparch of Pyramid No. 39, in charge of affairs at the big tent.

On that night, one-half of the proceeds from sale of tickets will go into the Legion fund. As the Legionnaires also have one of the chief concessions at the circus, they can be counted on to make a good showing.

VAUDEVILLE ALSO CIRCUS FEATURE

Eight Special Acts Are in Addition to Regular Circus Program

As a special feature of the Sciots' Circus, there will be a fire fund benefit under the big tent Saturday afternoon, October 27, starting at 2:30 o'clock, announces H. M. Bennett, toparch of Pyramid No. 39.

In addition to the twelve regular circus acts, on the program, there will be eight special vaudeville numbers, all the very best talent right from the Orpheum and Pantages circuits.

The circus acts will include acrobatic, trapeze, juggling and animal performances, with twenty clowns as a special feature. This is the same Carl Horney's circus that recently entertained the Sciots in San Francisco, Mr. Bennett states.

There will also be a number of concessions, and pink lemonade and popcorn will flourish as usual, while ice cream cones and other delicacies intimately asso-

POST-MORTEM ON TWO OXY LOSSES

Bakersfield High Tramples
on Frosh; Cards Clean Up Tiger Varsity

By LARRY RAYMOND
Written for The Evening News
Occidental college lost both football games in the doubleheader played on the L. A. coliseum last Saturday afternoon. It was a heart-breaking day for the Tigers, when both the Frosh and varsity teams were whipped. The Bakers-field High eleven won from the Oxy freshmen 17-7 in the curtain raiser. The bulky Stanford team fought the scrappy Orange and Black varsity in a hard luck game which the Cards won, 42 to 0.

The Occidental team was nervous and knew it was up against stiff opposition. They took stage fright for the first half and during this abnormal period the Stanford heavy-weights marched down the field for four touchdowns.

Never's Wonderful
Never's wonderful booting gained yardage for the Cards every time and this punting game was indulged in by both teams.
Stanford always coming out ahead. This gent Never's is a marvelous specialist at kicking, many times punting the oval sixty yards and over the Occidental goal line. His accuracy and height gave the ends plenty of time to go down under the ball, and with the heavy linemen forcing their way through the pulverized Tiger line there was usually a flock of red coats surrounding the Oxy receiver.

Costly Fumbles
Gordon Shoaf, Oxy quarterback, was unable to handle the lofty punts and made several costly fumbles. Each team fumbled much but Stanford recovered them with luck. The entire Pipal outfit were outweighed just twenty pounds to the man.

McGahan Family Expresses Appreciation of Assistance

Voicing the deep appreciation of a grief-stricken family, A. W. McGahan of 5130 South Douglas avenue, Eagle Rock, father of J. W. McGahan, victim of the recent hill fire, wants Glendaleans to know that he and his wife, and Mrs. J. W. McGahan and two sons, Blynn and Merritt, are more than thankful for the sympathy and aid received in their hour of sorrow.

Mr. and Mrs. McGahan have moved from their little home in Eagle Rock to the J. W. McGahan home in Sycamore canyon, so that they can be near their son's widow and two boys.

Adding to the trials of the little family is the fact that the two boys, 6 and 8 years of age, are suffering with diphtheria. While their condition is not serious, the home is under quarantine, and the mother and grandparents are giving them constant care, and looking forward to quick recovery.

"This is why Glendaleans haven't heard from us sooner," said Mr. McGahan. "It has been a very trying time for all of us, and we want to express our sincere appreciation to The Glendale Evening News, and want to tell Glendaleans through its columns that we thank them for their sympathy and kind assistance."

Glendale Athletic Club Benefit Dance Is Success

Glendale Athletic club members are highly complimented by Charles P. Brice, Jr., president of the club, for the enthusiastic and successful manner in which they staged the benefit dance on Saturday night and added $67.95 to the relief fund for relatives of Clarence Edwards and J. W. McGahan, victims of the recent hill fire.

Mr. Brice says: "Considerable credit is due the club for the two days' notice they planned and carried out the successful benefit dance. The dance was to add to the relief fund The Glendale Evening News is raising."

"The famous black and tan colored orchestra of Los Angeles made a great hit, and a pleasant surprise of the affair was the announcement that a program had been arranged through the courtesy of Mrs. Nanno Woods."

"Miss Dorothy Woods gave a reading, 'The Fish,' and Miss Kathleen Woods gave a clever dance."

Central Christian Bible Class Gives Sum of $19

The men's Bible class of the Central Christian church, of which O. K. Kilbourn is president, and W. T. Sherman is secretary, has contributed $19 to the fund being raised for the relief of the families of Clarence Edwards and Joseph W. McGahan, who were burned to death fighting fire a week ago Saturday.

The fund is steadily growing. For the benefit of those residing in the southern section of Glendale, subscriptions are being received by the First National bank of which John A. Logan is cashier. Subscriptions left with him will be credited in these columns.

Milton H. Berry, resident of Eagle Rock, brought a check for $25 to The Glendale Evening News to be added to the fire relief fund.

"It seems to me," said Mr. Berry as he made out his check, "that the people of Eagle Rock should respond liberally to the fund. The fire fighters worked bravely to save Eagle Rock from probable destruction, and I am sure that the people of that community appreciate the efforts and will give gladly. Several large estates were directly in the path of the flames and, I believe their owners will give, if the matter is brought to their attention."

The Glendale Evening News will be pleased to record any other contributions from Eagle Rock residents.

The Home Ice company, H. P. Coker, president, and M. M. Coker, secretary-treasurer, 1126 Wilson avenue, today handed in a check for $50 for the relief fund, check for Frank M. Chobe, president of the National Federation of Postoffice Clerks, encloses $27.25, subscribed to the fund for the relief of the dependents of the fire victims. Mr. Chobe writes:

"I know of nothing more worthy than this widows' and orphans' fund, and it behooves each and every citizen of Glendale to give, and give freely to it."

JUGO-SLAV OUTBREAK

LONDON, Oct. 22.—Twelve Jugo-Slav gendarmes were killed and many others wounded in revolutionary outbreak in the Prizrend district, said a Brindisi dispatch to the Daily Mail today.

Mrs. Bessie Maxwell, 400 West Stocker street, underwent a major operation Sunday at the Glendale Sanitarium and hospital.

Mail Your Checks to Evening News Office! Don't Delay in This!

Several persons who have announced contributions to the fund being raised for the families of Clarence Edwards and Joseph W. McGahan and whose names appear in the attached list have so far failed to mail their checks to The Glendale Evening News.

In order that the fund may not become confused it is necessary that checks be mailed at once. Those who have announced contributions and who have not paid are asked to immediately mail their checks to The Glendale Evening News. Make checks payable to The Glendale Evening News and write on face "For Fire Relief Fund."

Banks of the city are authorized to receive contributions to the fund being raised through The Glendale Evening News. The list appearing in this paper will be held open for subscriptions until November 6, the date for the benefit entertainment.

Subscriptions received at The Glendale Evening News office will be credited in these columns. The committee to administer the fund is composed of Mrs. Daniel Campbell, president of the Tuesday Afternoon club; Spencer Robinson, president of the city of Glendale; Chalmers Day, commander Glendale post, American Legion; W. S. Ingram of The Glendale Evening News.

Two Men and Boat Cast Up by Ocean

ILWACO, Wash., Oct. 22.—Authorities are endeavoring today to identify the bodies of two well dressed men who were washed ashore with a badly damaged trolling boat along North Beach, above the old Breakers hotel, yesterday following a heavy storm.

A considerable sum of money was found on the men. This, coupled with the total absence of fishing gear on the boat, led to the belief today that the men were not engaged in fishing. A number of life preservers, far more than are usually carried on a troller, were found scattered along the beach. One bore the name of the steamer Undine, which runs between Portland and Astoria.

HURT MAN DOES HOUDINI STUNT

Roxi Perri, Leg Mangled, Gets Away From Scene of Motor Accident

Local police are mystified by the strange disappearance of Roxi Perri, said to have had a leg mangled Sunday night about 11 o'clock at La Crescenta, when a hay-riding party of which he was a member was struck by a car driven by George B. Cadyn of Montrose.

Officers hastened to the scene as soon as the accident was reported, but Perri had been taken away and no one present could say where. Hospital after hospital was called by telephone, but no trace of the injured man had been found.

The party, consisting of Los Angeles people, was riding in a truck owned by the Consumers

Mrs. E. G. Schnaker, 656 Ford street, Belvedere Gardens, Los Angeles, was considerably shaken up and accompanied the officers

"Last week," she said, "my husband left me; yesterday I was struck by a bicycle and now comes this. I wonder what will happen to her there."

Seek Triple Damages as Result of Fires

California Door company. The attorneys declared they will seek triple damages under a section of the law authorizing triple rewards when it can be proven the fire was caused by negligence. Damages are estimated by the State Board of Fire at $60,000.

"We will offer evidence to show that the donkey engine used by the company," said Attorney West, "were not provided with fire devices and that the company was guilty of gross negligence."

COMMUNITY LOYALTY

Growing Business Houses and an Expanding Business Center Means a Growing Community.

Citizens Endorse a Movement to Foster Community Loyalty and Sanction a Practical Business Co-operation Between Buyer and Seller In the Building of a Bigger, Better Glendale Merchandising Center

Merchants and Citizens Have Reciprocal Responsibilities In Community Building

The merchants of a Community have much to do with Community Growth. They are the first ones called upon to promote development in any line, if indeed they are not the leaders. It has come to the point that when a man opens a store or an office for the carrying on of his calling he becomes, ex-officio, a public character endowed with certain responsibilities and duties. He is expected to give his time and his money for civic improvements and development, in fact, for any cause that anyone is sponsoring.

The merchant contributes to this or that cause when, more often than not, he knows he will never see any direct benefit accrue to himself or his business as a result of this contribution.

Of course, the merchant knows that what will promote community growth will help his business and he gladly boosts civic improvements even though he knows he will never see any direct returns. The question is, does Mr. Average Citizen realize that what helps the merchant helps the city? The patronage he gives the merchant helps the merchant to grow and expand although the merchant does not say to the citizen, "I am enlarging my store and this piece of lumber and that bit of plastering represents the profits on the merchandise I sold you the past year." But a growing business means a bigger and a better town and the citizen who helps the merchant to grow is encouraging Community Development.

The citizen and the merchant are sharing the responsibilities of city growth. Glendale merchants and Glendale citizens are wide enough awake to know that they must reciprocate in the work of Community Development. The merchant can't succeed without the help of Mr. Average Citizen and the city cannot continue to advance as Mr. Average Citizen wants to see his home city advance without wide-awake merchants and a fine business center.

Glendale has grown out of the small-town class. The merchants are asking co-operation in Community development and Mr. Average Citizen is giving it wholeheartedly, proud to do his share in building the fastest growing city in America.

THIS page appears in The Glendale Evening News once a week. On another page is a classified index which explains the location of the cards on this page. The building of a greater community sentiment is the purpose of this page. Co-operation between the merchant and the buyer put into actual practice is a community builder.

THE SCIOT CREED

Your neighbor's assistance and co-operation in your business affairs; the strong grip of a friend to help you over the rough places in life; a kind word spoken in your behalf or your defense; a watchful care over you in your journey through life, and a full measure of innocent, wholesome amusement, is worth many times more to you while living than the most beautiful requiem, the most unctuous sermon, or the most elaborate pyramid over your remains when you are dead.

This creed briefly explains the objects of the Ancient Egyptian Order of Sciots. "B. O. A." boost one another, is the slogan of this branch of Masonry. The order is charitable to a considerable extent and attempts to put into practical use the teachings of the Masonic lodge. Employment bureaus and relief committees are maintained.

A strict ban is placed upon the introduction into the organization of politics or sectarianism of any nature, the objects being purely in the interest of the individual, and the Mason's duty to the individual as well as to his order as a whole is emphasized. To draw Masons together into a strong bond of friendship, fellowship and co-operation; to abolish social distinction and prestige due to financial standing—these are among the many aims of the Sciots.

Sciots' Band, Formed Less Than Two Months Ago by G. O. Russell, Gains Praise

The Sciots' band, organized by G. O. Russell less than two months ago, now numbers fifty-two pieces and is proving a big asset in the upbuilding of Glendale.

At the time of organization, one-third of the present membership was found in this city, states Mr. Russell, manager. The other two-thirds were gathered from the outside by an aggressive advertising campaign and have become residents of Glendale, thus adding materially to the growth of the city.

The band is thoroughly experienced, every member having had years of experience. This experience in the case of J. J. Burke and E. S. Maxwell totals forty-two years, and in the case of E. W. Kingsley thirty-eight years.

"We have paid particular heed to instrumentation in organizing this band," states Mr. Russell. "Lots of bands with individual players of real ability fail to synchronize their efforts into a melodious whole. We have gone out after harmony in the Sciots' band, and we believe we have it."

H. M. Bennett, toparch of local Pyramid No. 39 of the Sciots' organization, highly commends Mr. Russell's work in organizing this highly successful band.

"We have already received a number of letters of appreciation, following the part taken by this band at the funeral of Clarence Edwards Wednesday afternoon, October 18. This is just one indication of the good a band can accomplish in a community."

Following is the personnel of the Sciots' band:

G. O. Russell, manager.
E. W. Kingsley, assistant manager.

C. T. Palladine, assistant manager.

Frank Witherell, director.

J. J. Burke, assistant director.

Well Known Citizens Are Officials of Sciots Pyramid; Back of Circus to Limit

The circus committee of Sciots Pyramid No. 39 comprises all officers of the local organization, according to Arthur H. Dibbern, past toparch, who states that the idea was conceived in part as an answer to the many calls for charity made upon the pyramid.

"And then too, seeing how strong G. O. Russell was going with his band, we thought we'd have to do something to keep in step," explains Mr. Dibbern. "In this respect my worthy successor, Toparch H. M. Bennett, has been a live wire, taking full charge of things and lining up what will be the best circus seen here in a long while."

"Another reason for the Sciots' Circus is really part of the same reason, namely, to outfit Brother Russell's band. They want to go to San Diego November 15 to the big Sciots rally, and we want to send them there with nifty new uniforms.

"This circus should net us several thousand dollars." Following is the complete list of officers in Pyramid No. 39, Ancient Egyptian Order of Sciots: H. M. Bennett, toparch. Arthur H. Dibbern, past toparch.

Dr. Warren Z. Newton, Meib. Frederick A. Collins, Armesses. F. J. Mathiesen, Pastaphori. Richard J. Kinley, scribe. George H. Thomas, chancellor. Robert A. Sullivan, trustee. John C. Cleeland, trustee.

GIRLS AS FARMERETTES

The Girls' Friendly society of St. Mark's Episcopal church will appear at the Sciots' Circus as farmerettes, under the chaperonage of Mrs. Kemp, wife of Rev. Philip K. Kemp, pastor.

Inasmuch as they will be in charge of the peanuts and popcorn booth, it is expected that a land-office business in these circus staples will be done.

Drinks Evidence as Police Hammer Door

MARYSHILLE, Oct. 22.—While Officers Allred and Booth were battering down a door of the place belonging to Mrs. Victoria Ybarren, 118 Sixth street, in a raid, Mrs. Ybarren managed to drink a pint of illicit liquor, all the stock she had on hand.

With the evidence destroyed, the police were unable to lodge a charge against the woman.

TODAY—Southwest Faces Rail Fight; Would Retain Line to Coast; Postal Men Make Demands.

By CARL L. TURNER
For International News Service

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 22.—Kansas City and the Southwest will not lose their direct rail connection with the Pacific Coast if the Missouri Pacific line proceeds with its present plan to purchase half the stock of the Denver & Rio Grande trunk to the coast.

The Denver & Rio Grande system is an important key in the great transcontinental railway system pivoting at Kansas City. Hence the city is eager that the Denver & Rio Grande stock become the property of its own Missouri Pacific, giving it another direct transcontinental route.

Way was cleared for the purchase when the Colorado State Commission told the Interstate Commerce Commission sitting in Denver all objections to the proposed transaction were withdrawn.

Denver had sought to obtain the Denver & Rio Grande for the same reason Kansas City wanted it for the Iron Mountain line. If the disputed line had gone to the Colorado metropolis, Denver would have been on the main line of another transcontinental road.

Missouri and Kansas had feared the Santa Fe would obtain control of the Colorado line and transfer the through-Pacific connections of St. Louis, Kansas City and the Southwest to Chicago.

Salary increases and a demand that all mail cars be constructed of steel will be incorporated alongside several subsidiary relief measures in a bill to be presented in the next Congress, according to Charles H. Brown, representing railway postal employees in the Southwest.

Railway mail distributors will ask that their salaries be increased from $2,150 to $2,600 a year, and clerks from $2,300 to $2,800 a year.

Failure of the Post Office Department to enforce the law regarding steel mail cars has resulted in the roads retaining a large number of the old wooden type of cars, it is charged.

MOVIE STAR FACING BALM SUIT

Gloria Swanson Wrecked Romance, Is Claim

Gloria Swanson and, insets, Marshal Neilan and Mrs. Adeline Burns

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Oct. 22.—Hollywood, mecca of movie stars, publicity seekers, strong-arm guys and real, honest, earnest actor folk with aspirations, has had many queer happenings.

The doings here have furnished the basis of a new movie "scandal," which now threatens to break out in full bloom in the colony promises to give Hollywooders and newspaper readers something new.

Howard E. Watt, a mild young man of twenty-four years, goes through with his present announced intentions this situation will present itself for public discussion.

Mrs. Adeline Burns, mother of Gloria Swanson, beautiful movie queen, will be sued for breach of promise by Watt. She is forty-four.

And Miss Swanson and her mother will come back with the statement that the suits are the outgrowth of the refusal of both and Marshal Neilan, director, to listen to "blackmail" threats.

The threats are based on alleged facts regarding the friendship of Gloria and Neilan, who is the husband of another enchanting star.

Watt, on the other paw, says that he is going to "expose" the "hush up" methods of the colony, by which persons are virtually "exiled" when they become acquainted with facts which might endanger the popularity of stars.

Mrs. Burns, acquaintances recall, married Matthew P. Burns, an elderly and rich shoe merchant, about two years ago. Mrs. Burns was forced to wage a legal fight against his relatives to retain his property when he died.

Watt was named administrator. He had been nurse to Burns before the latter died.

Watt says that a few months after Burns' death Mrs. Burns and Neilan became engaged.

"We were inseparable," says Watt.

Then Gloria and her mother went east and while there Mrs. Burns, asserts Watt, wired him that their business and personal relations were at an end.

So, if Watt goes through with his suits, Hollywood will witness the spectacle of a man twenty-four suing a woman almost twice his age for heart balm and her own daughter for putting ice packs on the mother's love.

And everyone will have an ear close to the ground to get a hint as to what Watt may at least think he knows about Miss Swanson and Marshal Neilan.

POEMS That LIVE

AMY WENTWORTH

Her fingers charm the ivory keys,
They dance so light along;
The bloom upon her parted lips
Is sweeter than the song.

O perfumed suitor, spare thy smiles!
Her thoughts are not for thee;
She better loves the salted wind,
The voices of the sea.

Her heart is like an outboard ship
That at its anchor swings;
The murmur of the stranded shell
Is in the song she sings.

She sings and, smiling, bears her praise,
But dreams the while of one
Who watches from his sea-blown deck
The icebergs in the sun.

She questions all the winds that blow,
And every fog-wreath dim,
And bids the sea-birds flying north
Bear messages to him.

—John Greenleaf Whittier.

A clergyman in Southern California relates with glee the following:

"In my pastorate in Lowell, Mass., some years ago, a good deacon and his wife shared their pew with an elderly maiden lady, an intimate friend. The deacon's wife died and some time later he married the latter. One day a wag in the church said to me:

"I see you've married the deacon to Miss Blank."

"Yes," I replied, "I think it is a good marriage."

"So do I," replied the wag. "People that have slept together in the same pew so long ought to be married."

Uncle Wiggily Bedtime Stories

— BY HOWARD R. GARIS —

UNCLE WIGGILY AND SAMMIE'S TOOTH
There sounded a knock on the door of Uncle Wiggily's hollow stump bungalow one morning, and when the rabbit gentleman answered, there stood Mrs. Little-tail.

"Good morning!" greeted the bunny gentleman to the rabbit lady, "and how are you this morning?"

"I'm all right, but Sammie is in trouble," explained Mrs. Little-tail. "In a great deal of trouble, I might say."

"He can't have been kept in after school," said Uncle Wiggily. "For it's too early for that. I wonder."

"Excuse me for interrupting you, but it's his tooth," said Sammie's mother. "He has a loose tooth that needs pulling, but he won't let any of us take it out."

"Hum!" murmured Uncle Wiggily, reflective like. "Then once more he murmured 'Hum!' After that he twinkled his pink nose and asked: 'Did you try fastening a string to it and tying the other end of the string to the door knob?'"

"I tried that, but it wouldn't work," answered Mrs. Little-tail. "While I was tying one end of the string to the door knob Sammie loosened the other end of the string from his tooth."

"Hum!" murmured Uncle Wiggily. "How about tying one end of the string to a flatiron and dropping the iron down the well?"

"I tried that, also," replied Mrs. Little-tail, "but while I went to look for the flat iron Sammie took the other end of the string from his loose tooth and we're just about where we started at first—Sammie still has his loose tooth, and it ought to come out."

"Yes," agreed the bunny gentleman. "I might. Have you tried balloons?" he suddenly asked.

"Balloons!" cried Mrs. Little-tail. "What do you mean?"

"I mean get a bunch of high flying, toy balloons," went on Mr. Longears. "Tie the string around Sammie's loose tooth, tie the bunch of balloons and let them go. They'll pop up into the air and pull out Sammie's tooth as they rise."

"That might work all right if we could get Sammie to open his mouth," said Mrs. Little-tail. "But he is so afraid now that every time one of us goes near him he closes his mouth and holds his paw over it. So we can't even tie a string around the loose tooth."

"Hum!" answered Uncle Wiggily again. "Perhaps I'd better try and see what I can do."

"I wish you would," begged Mrs. Little-tail.

So Uncle Wiggily hopped to the ten and eleven cent store and bought a bunch of toy balloons—big balloons filled with gas so they were eager to sail away in the air all the while. But Uncle Wiggily kept tight hold of the strings so the balloons couldn't fly until he wanted them to do so.

With the balloons Uncle Wiggily started for the house where Sammie lived with his sister Susie.

"But I don't see how you are going to get him to open his mouth," said Mrs. Little-tail, who was walking with Uncle Wiggily.

"Perhaps I can find a way," spoke the bunny gentleman.

As they came near to Sammie's house there was the little rabbit boy sitting on a flat stump out in front. As soon as Sammie saw the big bunch of toy circus balloons—colored red, blue, green and purple—why that rabbit boy just opened his mouth as widely as he could and cried:

"Oh! Ah!"

"Well, one part is done—he has his mouth open!" chuckled Uncle Wiggily.

"Yes," agreed Mrs. Little-tail, "but I didn't think you could do it."

"Now to get the string on the tooth," went on the bunny gentleman. He had a strong cord in his pocket, and while Sammie's mouth was still open, as he stared in wonder at the many balloons, Uncle Wiggily put the string on the tooth, tying it tightly.

"I say!" cried Sammie in surprise. "What's the idea?"

"Never mind," laughed Uncle Wiggily. "Just look at the balloons! I brought them for you, Sammie!"

"Every one?" asked Sammie!

"Yes, every one," answered the Sitting on a flat stump.

the string and the balloons carried it away far off in the air.

"Oh, my tooth is out and my balloons are gone!" cried Sammie.

"Never mind!" laughed Uncle Wiggily. "I'll get you some new balloons and soon a new tooth will grow in, so you'll be all right." And then Sammie was happy.

Now if the breakfast orange doesn't hide down in the coffee pot when the oatmeal wants it to play tag, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily popping corn.

10 Years Ago Today

From Evening News Files

On Tuesday afternoon the Elmdale club, whose members consists of six of the younger set of Glendale, were most delightfully entertained by the Misses Myrtle and Emma Pulliam at 148 South Kenwood street.

Chapter L, P. E. O., is planning a party for Friday night, when they will initiate the B. F. L.'s at the home of Mrs. H. E. Bartlett, 101 Brand boulevard.

The new auto fire truck has been delivered by the Vance-Caban motor company and has been tested out by the board of trustees. The cost of the machine complete was $6250.

If our Revolutionary fathers had cause to fight for independence from the oppression of Great Britain, the citizens of Glendale have equal cause to fight for an independent postoffice, that they may be liberated from the tyranny that is not in keeping with the rights set forth in the Declaration of Independence.

Diet and Health

By Lulu Hunt Peters, M.D.
Author of "Diet and Health, with Key to the Calorics"

DIET FOR CHILDREN AND ADULTS—(Continued)

Feeding the Children Two and a Half

The diet I have advised for baby by the thirtieth month really contains most of the foods he should have until adult life. And if it were to continue as simple throughout childhood, and even adult life, he would avoid much trouble, probably.

You remember I told you that the diet which is best for the growing child has been proved to be best for the maintenance of health in the adult. In other words, milk and its products; whole grain cereals—including breads; vegetables in liberal amounts; especially the green leafy vegetables; fruit and nuts; a small amount of meat, if any; eggs, and simple desserts, should form the diet both of the adult and of the child.

That does not seem to exclude much, does it? But let us see. Ordinary white bread, demeraraized cereals, excess fat, fried foods, rich and fancy pastries and candies, condiments such as mustard and pepper, stimulants like tea, coffee and alcohol would come in the list taboos. You see it is quite a list.

After the fifteenth month three meals a day are sufficient. Up to six at least, the heavy meal should be at noon, for a heavy meal at night often causes restless sleep and other disturbances.

At six years of age, when the child begins to go to school, he may be able to take his lunch, and that will necessitate a little different arrangement of the meals. Be sure that he has a good, substantial, warm breakfast before he goes to school. Get up a little earlier if necessary, so that he can have time to eat it. You may be benefited by eating breakfast—many adults are, especially if they are over-nourished—but the child will not be. A good breakfast is important.

It is best to have the dinner in the middle of the day even now if possible, but if the child will not come home and eat it without rushing, it is better to give him a nourishing lunch and have the heartier meal at 5 or 6 o'clock.

If he comes home for lunch, mothers, do have it ready so he won't have to worry about being late at school. This same advice applies to breakfast. You know worry doesn't help digestion.

If the heartier meal is given at night, an hour to an hour and a half should elapse before going to bed. If father doesn't get home until late, don't make the children wait for him. Serve them at 5:30 or 6. In many ways this is better anyway, for it gives you more of a chance to supervise them, and then gives you a restful period to eat in yourself without having to wait on them.

Regularly in meals is just as important for the older children as it is for those under two. No foods should be given to the normal child between meals except small amounts of milk, or fresh fruit or fruit juices; and if these are given they should be given at a regular time—just as regularly as the meal hours. If it is found this lunch interferes with the appetite, it will have to be discontinued.

For malnourished children mid-morning and mid-afternoon lunches are usually advised, so that they will get the necessary amount of food for a gain in weight without having to overeat at meal times. These lunches, again, should be given at the same time each day. I will give you some special directions for the malnourished child later.

The practice of letting children nibble at crackers, cookies, candies, etc., at all times between meals is one of the chief causes of indigestion. It also destroys the appetite for foods that should be taken at meal times and thus may cause malnutrition.

My Dear Followers: When sending for material which we offer you, please remember to enclose a stamped envelope bearing your full name and address. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must enclose 4 cents in stamps extra. Address your letters to me in care of this paper. Make them as brief as possible. Do not over 250 words, and type or write them legibly with ink. Please sign your name as evidence of good faith—we will not use it in any way. Remember, it is impossible for me to diagnose for you or to answer you personally. I appreciate very much the beautiful letters you send me and regret it is impossible to give you individual advice. The questions you ask will be answered in the columns as soon as possible if they are of general interest. Don't forget the S. A. S. if you expect me to send you the information I have offered.

IN NAVY SATIN CREPE
This is the latest Paris idea of the slip-on frock—a charming creation in navy blue satin crepe, trimmed with blue and gray silk embroidery. The front section is draped over a foundation consisting of a skirt attached to a long-waisted bodice, and is caught at one side with a tie-sash of narrow ribbon. Embroidery at the lower edge of the front, and about the neck and sleeves, supplies all of the other decoration needed. Medium size requires 4½ yards 36-inch material, and 5½ yard lining.

Pictorial Review Dress No. 1874. Sizes, 34 to 48 inches bust. Price 45 cents. Embroidery No. 12757. Transfer, blue or yellow, 40 cents.

A STRIKING ORIGINATION
An excellent style for the woman who must have straight lines, is this frock of plaited crepe de chine, made in slip-on effect. The neck and armholes are finished with a band of lace insertion, but the design also provides for kimono sleeves cut in one with a square-headed yoke. With the yoke and sleeves the dress easily may be impressed into practical service. Without it, it is a perfect model for semi-formal occasions. Medium size requires 4½ yards 40-inch crepe de chine, and 2½ yards 23½-inch banding.

Pictorial Review Dress No. 1873. Sizes 34 to 48 inches bust. Price 45 cents.

BEAUTY CHATS

SHAMPOO LOTIONS
The only trouble with washing the hair at home is the difficulty of getting all the soap out. A great deal of water is necessary, preferably running water. There are many inexpensive hose attachments for bathrooms so that water can be forced in a vigorous stream through the hair, which not only stimulates the scalp but carries off all the soap.

It is easy to wash the hair at home if you have a good shampoo lotion, but if you haven't the hair will only be sticky and dull afterwards. That is why so many of the ready-made shampoos contain large amounts of alcohol or of borax. They dry the hair, but they do take off the soap and grease.

The easiest shampoo lotion to make contains nothing but white castile soap melted in enough hot water to form a liquid about the consistency of molasses. The actual cake of soap should never be rubbed over the hair. It is impossible to rinse then, but liquid soap makes a quick cleansing lather. Ordinarily the hair should be soaped and rinsed, then soaped and rinsed again. One soaping is never enough. If the hair is very dirty or oily use soap three times, then rinse as usual, first with hot water, then cold.

For brunettes, white castile soap dissolved in tar water would be beneficial, or better yet, a good quality tar soap melted in hot water. For blondes, or for brunettes who wish to brighten the hair, three ounces of castile soap and one ounce of powdered Egyptian henna will make a good shampoo powder, or, if liquid form is preferred, a cake of white castile soap weighing four ounces and an ounce of henna, melted in hot water and kept in a bottle. For very oily hair add an ounce of bay rum to every eight ounces of these home made liquid shampoos.

Dinner Stories

Uncle Joshua was a laconic and hard-headed old countryman, who never let the criticisms of his too frank neighbors upset his equanimity, according to Judge. At one of the sessions of the "Village Club," which met every day in the postoffice for the distribution of the 5 o'clock mail, some of the men undertook to twist Uncle Joshua about a tale then going the rounds of one of his recent horse trades.

"They're tellin' all kinds of lies about you, Josh," jibed one young blade. "Wot you goin' to do about it?"

"Do?" replied Uncle Joshua, coolly, as he spat with unerring accuracy through the open door. "Nothin'." I don't keer how many lies they tell about me. It's the truth I'm a skeered of."

Heart and Home Problems

By MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

Dear Mrs. Thompson: Is there any cure at all for jealousy when there is no reason to be jealous? I am nineteen years old and have been married eight months. At first when I was married I didn't love my husband and I prayed every night that I would learn to love him because he was so good. Now I love him too much and find I love him more every day.

He is nineteen, too, and very good-looking. Everyone goes crazy about him. Yesterday three girls, their boy friends, he and I went for a ride. I was in the front with another girl and fellow. My husband was in the back. Little did I realize how greedy I am getting for I was so jealous. He paid attention to all of us but I wasn't used to his being so friendly to others. I must admit there was not a thing to make me jealous. I guess he noticed how I felt, because he tried so hard afterward to avoid a quarrel, but I couldn't help telling him how I felt. He told me he could never even like anyone else and babied me. I took advantage of his kindness and kept it up and in the end he lost patience. I know I love him too much or I wouldn't be so ridiculous.

We are a happy couple, but if my jealousy keeps up I suppose it will cause trouble. Please tell me how to overcome it. BABY.

Your jealousy is a silly thing, and as you anticipate, it will bring trouble unless you control it. When you know the right thing to do, why do you act contrary to your judgment and carry on your grievance until your husband loses patience.

The way for you to control your jealousy is to reason with yourself.

Taxes Show Increase in Capital Stocks Capital stock of Southern California corporations reported for federal capital stock tax from July 1 registered the unprecedented increase of $378,826,000 over the corresponding period of 1922, according to a survey completed by Collector of Internal Revenue Rex Goodcell. For the three months period a capital stock tax of $1,362,356 was assessed, representing capital stock of a fair value as of June 30, of the staggering sum of $1,416,756,000, which was reported by corporations for taxation, compared with $1,037,930,000 for the same period of 1922. This sets up a gain in the value of capital stock reported for July, August and September of this year, of $378,826,000.

BURBANK ZONE ORDINANCE PASSAGE DELAYED

Changes Alter Original Draft of Document Submitted to City Trustees

The Burbank zoning ordinance, passed at the second reading Tuesday, October 9, by the board of trustees, still stands waiting to be heard, with no definite prospect that it will receive attention at tomorrow night's session.

The proposed ordinance has been thrashed inside and out, but about this way and that, hammered and thumped by one faction after another, until its facial expression is so altered it would not be recognized by its own mother, residents report.

One of the principal changes is one that will allow the courts and apartment houses in the residential district, provided they are set back the same twenty-five feet as is required by private dwellings.

Another bone of contention is the definite establishment of the various zones. Henceforth, the matter comes up the sparks appear to fly. In general, however, the following boundaries are provided:

Industrial zone—The section of the city bordering on each side of the Southern Pacific railroad.

Business zone—From the industrial zone on the south to 150 feet beyond Fourth street on the north, east to Providencia avenue, thence drop south to 150 feet above San Fernando boulevard and east to the city limits.

First residential district, courts and apartment houses—From 150 feet north of Fourth street to 150 feet north of Seventh street.

Second residential zone—From 150 feet north of Seventh street north to the city limits.

Suburban zone—All outside of the above described districts.

John Muir Notes
Hot dogs and pie are financing decorations in the club rooms of the John Muir Y boys, reports Miss Cecilia Mae Fischer, secretary of the student body of that school. The teachers are helping the students eat the above, and reports. This looks like high finance, observes Innocent By-stander.

Following are the officers of the student body elected at the last meeting: Bernald Weight, president; Madeline Gage, vice-president; Cecilia Mae Fischer, secretary; and Jeanette Gage, treasurer.

The Girl Scouts greatly enjoyed last Saturday afternoon's outing at the Sunset Canyon Country club, as the guests of Dr. Philip E. Zeiss. Swimming in the clubhouse pool was the chief diversion, reports Miss Fischer.

Local and Personal
Mr. and Mrs. V. E. Craig of 907 Palm avenue have sold their home at that address and moved to Claremont for the winter, to be with their daughter, Miss Mary Craig, who is attending Pomona college. The Craig place has been purchased by Mrs. Della C. Red.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bartholomew of Des Moines, Iowa, have been guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Denhart.

Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Preston report, on returning home from a visit of several weeks with relatives in Pennsylvania and New York, that they enjoyed particularly being entertained by Glenn Anders, in the latter city, now playing a lead in "What's Your Wife Doing?" at a Manhattan theatre. The actor is a brother of J. E. Anders of Burbank.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Prentice and their three children have returned to their 822 Angeleno avenue home after a month's vacation at Arrowhead lake. Mr. Prentice, who is known in film circles as A. C. Smith, is a co-director with Herbert Henley at Universal City and just recently completed "A Lady of Quality."

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Pupke have returned from their motor trip through the northern part of the state. Stopping at Newhall on the way back, they spent a few days with Mrs. Swall.

EAGLE ROCK CHILDREN'S WEEK LECTURES START

Stress Importance of Rising Generation in Future
Life of Nation

With Saturday night's performance of "Mr. and Mrs. Moon Entour," ending the second annual Harvest Home Festival, Eagle Rock now turns its attention to Children's Community Week, October 21 to 28, to be observed by special lectures impressing on the residents of this community that salvation of the nation lies in proper upbringing of the children of today, its future rulers.

Rev. William Middlemass started the week at the Presbyterian church yesterday morning with a ringing address on "The Responsibility of Parents to the Nation." He has planned a big part in similar demonstrations in Spokane, Wash., where a great deal along this line has been accomplished.

The general aim of the week, he reports, will be to strive for the moral, spiritual and social elevation of the children of this community.

On Wednesday night, October 24, there will be a big mass meeting at the Presbyterian church, open to everyone. The Chamber of Commerce will supply a speaker on "The Child as a Citizen," according to Donnell G. Montgomery, secretary.

"Parent and Child" will be the topic of a talk by Mrs. G. E. Arbogast, representing the Parent-Teacher association. Rev. Middlemass will talk on "Respect for God's House."

On Friday afternoon, October 26, the children will have a meeting of their own, held in the auditorium of the Eagle Rock school. A movie of constructive effort will be among the features offered. This will be followed by a story-telling hour.

COMMENT That's All

Prohibition Puzzling
Pinchot's Own Problem
Cure for Hooch Hounds
Five Lines of Cheer

By Gil A. Cowan

President Coolidge is quoted as having said at a conference of the governors Saturday:

"The American people are not a nation of inebriates."

He was appealing for the enforcement of the prohibition law. Very true, the citizenry, as a whole, do not believe in going out and getting drunk.

But you would be surprised at those who would refuse a drink when offered one!

Ah, yes. You would be surprised at those who have the best stocked cellars. It is to laugh at some of the publishers who howl most loudly for upholding the constitution.

And we have no right to pick on the newspaper men when there are doctors, lawyers, yes, even clergymen, all over the country, who enjoy their "snifter," while on the side they say:

"Nay, nay, brethren."

Temperance is an excellent thing. All should practice it. Prohibition has worked wonders from an economic standpoint.

Morally the abolishment of strong drink is a step toward the right direction of "peace on earth, good will toward men."

And yet what does all this effort on the part of the government amount to when law abiding citizens will wink at the law, aid in its violations and see federal agents shot down in cold blood by organized bands of bootleggers.

President Coolidge cannot be blamed for the failure of the dry forces, if they have failed. Instead of criticism on the part of Governor Pinchot we should like to see that executive cleaning the slate in his own state of Pennsylvania.

Beer of alcoholic content, greater than that prescribed by law, is said to be very common in all large communities. At least such was the case in Pittsburgh and Philadelphia, according to accounts.

Moonshine whiskey can be purchased at random and the best imported goods can be had for a price from the rum runners.

All of which leads to the conclusion that every third male citizen of the United States will have to be sworn into the forces of the prohibition enforcement bureau—and even then the other two will have to watch the officer of the law.

So much for Mr. Coolidge and the problem he has presented the governors. His speech, their approval, this and other editorial comment, mean nothing to the bootlegger. He is going to continue to do business.

Indeed, the bootlegger has become an institution, organized, fortified and as substantial as the ice man, coal dealer or commodity purveyor of a desired commodity.

To our mind there is only one cure for the evil, if it be deemed such, and that is for every state to make bootlegging, rum running, moonshining and booze buying a felony. Then let us throw an organized force of secret state police into the field to imprison every person caught in the net without judge or jury trial.

For there is a loophole through which to escape trust to the hooch hounds to find it. And that's that.

Now for a few fine lines to conclude this comment:

America is a land in which, when a man gets away a million dollars, folks begin to wonder what he has been up to.—Marysville Democrat.

It was once thought the automobile would take more people to church, but it seems to carry a lot of them right by.—Woodland Mail.

Education Work and Recreation Essential

"What Young People Need" was the text for the sermon delivered Sunday night at the Tropic Presbyterian church by Dr. James Winnard. He pointed out four requisites to successful womanhood or manhood.

First he mentioned education, to fit one mentally to meet life's problems. "No matter what one expects to be in life they will be the greater success if the special training has the foundation of a general education," he said.

Second, he said young people need work, which he called a good ballast. "Work is as much a habit as idleness."

Third, the need for recreation was mentioned. The word should be recreation, he said, or at least that should be the purpose rather than dissipation that unfits for service, study or work.

"Above all else young people need religion," he declared. "Let religion be coupled with your education, your recreation and your work. It takes such a combination to make real character."

TUJUNGA CORNERSTONE OF SCHOOL IS LAID

Twenty Classrooms and Auditorium Seating 1200 in New Building

Tujunga's largest permanent public building was dedicated with ceremonies befitting the importance of the occasion when a cornerstone, was imbedded in one of the columns at the entrance to the auditorium of the school building under construction.

An invocation by Rev. J. U. Stotts of the Tujunga Community church and speeches by representative citizens of the valley were included in the ceremonies.

Current copies of The Glendale Evening News and other current copies of papers, school documents, an American flag and other papers were cemented in the column in an iron box.

This building is the second unit of the grammar school building being erected to replace the outgrown wooden building that has served since the district was known as Glorieta Heights. There are twenty classrooms in this unit and an auditorium that will seat 1200 persons.

Additional units will follow this one as rapidly as finances of the district will permit.

Father Tonello Christens Ship
Monsignor Joseph Tonello of Tujunga, pastor of the Catholic chapel there, had the honor of officiating at the christening ceremonies that gave a homelike ship, the former German freighter Principio, a country to call its own.

Lrs. Leota Porter of Los Angeles sponsored the ship's name and was made godmother of the craft.

The ceremonies were conducted at Los Angeles harbor. Dr. Jose S. Saenz, consul for the republics of Panama and Cuba, hoisted the Panama national colors to the Principio's jack staff, while a band played the national anthem, and the vessel was placed under registry to Panama.

According to German maritime law, the freighter, built in 1920 at Hamburg, Germany lost her registry when sold by the United States for libel suits. The Principio first came to Los Angeles harbor a year ago under the German flag. As a result of libel suits, the vessel was sold to Cavaglieri, the present owner.

Rechristening of the Principio marks the opening of a new trade for Los Angeles harbor shipping. This vessel will be employed in importing oyster shells from Mexican and Central American ports to be used in the manufacture of buttons. Cargoes of charcoal, fresh vegetables and fruit will also be carried by the freighter.

Tells of Club Plans
Plans for the coming year were outlined by Mrs. Nelson E. Jones, president of the Women's club of Tujunga, at the first meeting of the club since the summer recess.

Five new members were added to the roll. The treasurer's report showed a balance of more than $900 deposited for the building fund.

Meetings will be held regularly on the second and fourth Thursdays of each month at Legion hall. Food sales were again arranged and the first held Saturday, October 20, from 11 a. m. to 4 p. m.

The Women's club is ambitious to build a clubhouse on the lot already purchased for that purpose and has been conducting cooked food sales for some time.
